Setting & maintenance of your billiards

1 m 20 around your table is enough to play

ROOM

Thanks to the improvements in the manufacturing of the billiard tables, it is no more necessary to have a huge room for installing it. Now billiards with reasonable sizes, with three-piece slates, even allow to have a billiards in the cellar or on an upper floor. Indeed, as described in the upper table, a room of 3,20 X 4.00 m is enough for accommodating your billiards. Dimensions are measured form wall to wall: armchairs or couches won't bother, same as a chimney or any cupboard, you can use temporarily a shorter cue. The weight itself is not a problem since it is safely shared on each leg.

LIGHTING

A good lighting is essential. Billiards lamps which have been specially designed for the billiards game have to be hung 80 cm high from the slate and will provide the best conditions for playing.

DELIVERY

The game quality of your billiards needs an assembly and fitting by specialists. This important step needs professional fitters. A one-piece slate is quite simple and fast to assemble, but a three-piece slate billiards needs a specialist during half day of work. Please contact your sales man for getting a piece of advice. If the billiards should be installed in a cellar or at the first floor, after climbing a stairway, then a three-piece slate will make it easier to handle.

All our billiards are equipped with levelers, under each leg which make it easier to adapt to the differences of the ground, for a perfect flatness.

MAINTENANCE

For keeping your billiard in a good state, all you have to do is cleaning the cloth with a specific brush and using for the balls a gentle cleanser, available in our shops and distributors. We highly advise you to protect the billiard with a dust cover.

Models	Minimum Room Dimensions	Models	Minimum Room Dimensions

7'	4,70 x 3,70 m	9'	5,30 x 4,00 m

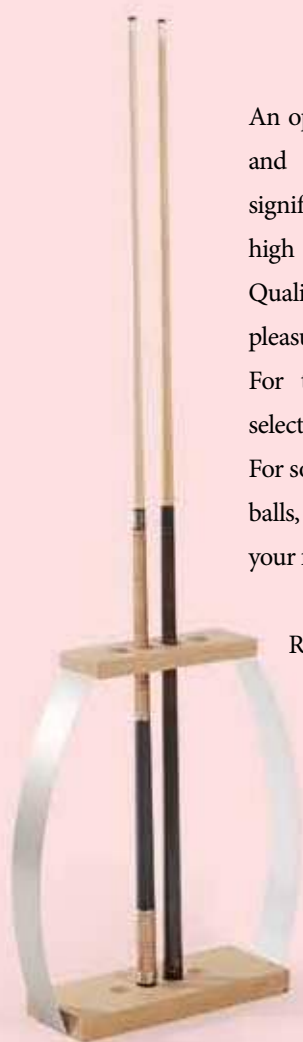

ACCESSORIES

An optimum game means having good quality parts and accessories. This is why Rene Pierre devotes significant attention to providing a wide range of high quality items for billiards and football tables. Quality and nice design are combined for your greatest pleasure.
